

Holly Atkins

“I wanted to be a solicitor because I wanted to help people who needed legal support.”

Holly completed an English degree at University.

She then completed a Graduate Diploma in Law (GDL Course).

Holly then completed the Legal Practical Course (LPC).

Accepted on the Myerson Training Contract!

Q: What made you choose a career in law?

A: I wanted to be a solicitor because I wanted to help people resolve their legal problems and assist them in complicated issues. I wanted to do something that was intellectually stimulating and I've always enjoyed reading and writing, so I wanted a career that could play on my strengths.

Q: Why did you choose Myerson Solicitors?

A: I knew of Myerson Solicitors before I applied as they are a well-known firm in the local area. They do a lot of outreach and community engagement in Cheshire, plus my family had worked with them in the past. I knew they were really friendly with high net-worth clients.

Q: Where do you see your future career taking you?

A: I really want to be a family law solicitor. I have always had an interest in private client or family law - dealing with bereavement or divorces where people are facing difficulties and need support. My time within the family team during my training contract at Myerson has just made my decision even easier.

Q: What advice would you give to anyone considering a Myerson training contract?

A: Definitely apply for it. It's a brilliant training contract, it will really push you to reach your potential. You get responsibility from the start and within a friendly, lively culture. Everyone is really supportive and they want to help you grow into a great solicitor.

Training applications for 2020 are open now.

Find out how you can apply for a training contract with Myerson Solicitors:

www.myerson.co.uk/careers

