How We Work.

Every case is different, and it can be difficult for our clients to know where to start.

Simple and effective. We will always have an initial conversation with you, without any obligation, to explain the process and get to know you and your situation.

We respect your emotions and feelings. We work hard building close relationships with our clients as we understand that agreeing to separate can be an emotional and confusing experience. We are used to dealing with complex legal family issues and ensure that the advice you receive respects your feelings, at what is often a stressful time.

Online Portal. We use an online portal to progress the divorce and financial application as quickly as possible. The global pandemic (Covid-19) has caused a great deal of backlog in the Family Court and the online portal circumvents the delay caused by issuing divorce petitions by post.

Trust. You're in safe hands. We help clients nationwide and internationally with complex and sensitive cases on a daily basis. So you can rest assured that our expert team knows its stuff!

Prenuptial Agreements

What is a prenuptial agreement?

A prenuptial agreement is an agreement made in contemplation of marriage to protect wealth accrued prior to marriage.

A prenuptial agreement is useful to protect you if there is a disparity in your respective wealth positions prior to marriage.

A prenuptial agreement is also helpful to protect your children's inheritance if you already have a family and are entering a second or subsequent marriage.

What are the advantages of having a prenuptial agreement?

- Certainty

The couple knows who gets what if the marriage ends.

- Protection

A prenuptial agreement is an effective tool to protect premarital wealth.

Is a prenuptial agreement legally enforceable in England & Wales?

A prenuptial agreement is not automatically legally binding in this country at the moment.

However, the courts in England & Wales are upholding the terms of a pre-nuptial agreement in the following circumstances:

- Each spouse must have independent legal advice before signing the agreement.
- Financial disclosure needs to take place before signing the agreement.
- You should be given the opportunity to ask questions about your partner's financial position.
- The terms of the agreement need to be fair and reasonable.
- There should be no suggestion of either party being placed under unfair pressure to sign the agreement.
- There should be sufficient time between the signature of the prenuptial agreement and the wedding to avoid any suggestion that either spouse was placed under duress or time pressure to sign the agreement. This is usually between 4-6 weeks before the wedding.
- The agreement should have a review clause and consideration should be taken as to what would happen in the event of the birth of children, ill health of either party or loss of employment.

Can we enter into a prenuptial agreement if we are already married?

No, but you can enter into a postnuptial agreement. The same considerations apply to a postnuptial agreement as to a prenuptial agreement.

Can I have a prenuptial agreement if I am not planning a wedding?

No.

Prenuptial agreements are made in contemplation of marriage. For them to be valid, the marriage would need to take place within 12 months of signature of the agreement.

You may consider having a cohabitation agreement with your partner if you do not plan to marry.

How much does a prenuptial or post nuptial agreement cost?

Our fees for preparing a prenuptial agreement for you will depend on the extent of the assets involved and how complex the arrangements are.

Our expert team will be happy to provide you with a comprehensive quote for your matter.
